Supplementary Figure 1 Leptin promotes growth of breast cancer cells in a dose-dependent manner. MCF7 (A) and MDA-MB-231 (B) cells were treated with various concentrations of leptin as indicated and subjected to XTT assay. The data represents mean values ± SEM and are the results of three independent experiments performed in triplicates. *, P<0.01, as compared to untreated controls.