Supplementary Figure 2: Leptin increases clonogenicity of breast cancer cells in a dose-dependent manner. MCF7 (A) and MDA-MB-231 (B) cells were treated with various concentrations of leptin as indicated and subjected to colony-formation assay. Colonies containing >50 normal-appearing cells were counted. *, $P<0.01$, as compared to untreated controls.